Farewell to the Class of 2017

ORR Update

By Jo Caynon

Last Friday, the Class of 2017 walked the halls for the final time as current students of Old Rochester Regional High School for their farewell assembly. In the presence of the entire high school, the seniors had one last look back on the past four years before they graduated. The concert band played "Pomp and Circumstance," the classic graduation march, as the class filed into the gymnasium while the underclassmen gave them a standing ovation.

"Today is when we seniors should look at the people around us ... these are the ones who helped shape us into who we are today," Class President Brooke Santos stated of the ceremony during her opening speech. Her words perfectly summarized the assembly, as it focused on celebrating the many aspects of the senior class that had not been touched upon the previous night during the senior class awards ceremony.

This reminiscing began as Class Vice President Jacob Cafarella gave the traditional speech chronicling the highlights of the graduating class' time at the high school. Included in this recap were the achievements of winning the homecoming skit back to back, and the second annual Powderpuff game between Wareham High School and ORRHS.

Their sophomore year, the boys' basketball team took home the state championship and the girls' hurdle squad placed seventh in the nation. Overall, the members of the senior class helped bring home 42 SCC titles and three state championships during their four years.

The first two of many musical performances followed Cafarella's speech, as Aaron Norcross played "Soulshine" on the guitar and Joe Gauvin's band "Retro Roots" gave a performance of "Simple Man" by Lynyrd Skynyrd.

Next, Coleen Garcia and Tessa Camboia, two active members of the American Field Service club at the high school, recognized the two exchange students who joined the ranks at ORR this past year. Garam Darwish from Israel sat amongst the seniors as she was set to graduate with them while Vicente Gonzalez from Mexico was seated with his fellow juniors. The two exchange students were given presents on behalf of the AFS club before a slideshow of the club's activities this year were shown, including a cross-country trip to California.

"It's been an experience of a lifetime," Darwish said.

The mixed chorus took the stage next with an a capella version of Michael Jackson's "Thriller," with solos by juniors Caroline Regis and Julia Melloni, sophomores Kelly Bruce and Lilah Gendreau, and freshman Sarah Melloni. The gymnasium erupted into cheers as Sports Director Bill Tilden performed the "spooky speech" at the ending of the song.

Gabe Noble-Shriver, the president of the junior class, then gave a speech based on the "exchanging of power" from the seniors to the juniors.

"Each and every person who has graduated from ORR ... has strived to be the best they can be," Noble-Shriver said. "We will draw upon the skills we have observed and learned from your senior year."

Between the music, the senior class government took the time to thank their staff advisors, English teachers Megan Hall and Michael Beson, and gifted the two with bouquets. They also announced that the Class of 2017's gift to the high school would be the donation of new picnic benches for the courtyard. Members of the senior class are allowed to eat outside in this area (when the New England weather permits it), and more tables would allow for more students in the allowed group to

The final event of the assembly was the traditional "senior slideshow," although much of this year's was in video format. The video looked back on the many activities the class did this past year, from the Ned's Point picnic in September and homecoming in October to Mr. ORR and prom. The recap of their final year closed off the seniors' farewell assembly in an emotional yet hopeful way as their sights turned toward what lies ahead in their future.

The seniors graduated on Saturday, June 3 at noon. Valedictorian Hannah Guard, quoting Dr. Suess, told the graduates, "With your head full of brains and shoes full of feet, you're too smart to go down any not-so-good street."

Best wishes to the graduating Class of 2017, and good luck in all of your future endeavors.

The Northern Saw-Whet Owl

By George B. Emmons

Sometimes known as the 'Tom Thumb of the owl realm' because it is tame enough to be picked up in one hand and is not much bigger than your thumb, the saw-whet owl, in size, is the smallest of so-called nocturnal raptors in New England.

Way down south, the owlet is barely bigger than the size of a sparrow. It might seem cute and friendly being carried around and such to affectionately be revered by daylight. By contrast, the orange eyes of owls indicate a preference for either dawn or dusk, and dark eyes signify nighttime navigation and predation.

Playing the parent role of a wise old owl, it mates for life, which may be as long as 15 years, staying together even during the non-breeding season.

The female is bigger than the male, as is often the case in birds, but both share the responsibility of feeding and raising young, even for an extended period like the somewhat larger screech owl, often seen as in my drawing in a group garden setting with a tree saw from which they get their name. It comes from their shrill rasping 'che-witt' call repeated one hundred times a minute and sounding like the repeated strokes of sharpening the teeth of a metal saw blade with a handheld honing stone.

The young are taught by example how to hunt, starting them off with daylight hours from dawn to dusk, and they also learn by example how to save and set aside excess food in a convenient setting, like saving money for a rainy day. However, the most remarkable acquired trait is not learning or acquiring fear of a humans. This is probably from not having the experience of evolutionary conditioned reflexes, living away from harm secluded in a thick remote shadowy conifer setting with no repeated exposure to harm.

This is also characteristic of the spruce grouse of Maine, being so tame that, like the isolated heath hen of Martha's Vineyard, they were nicknamed as fool hens by indigenous natives.

If you venture out for bird watching during the dusk hours between sunset and sundown, in the mystical time of day that appeals to the diurnal and nocturnal, keep your eyes open for a tiny feathered profile on a fence railing or low hanging branch looking just as surprised as you might be lucky enough to witness. Then, writing

Seniors Return For One Last Sentimental Walk

By Jean Perry

It's a long walk through the hallways of time for a person on their way to Point B from Point A, but in retrospect that walk can seem like an awfully short one, which is what some graduating seniors of the Old Rochester Regional Class of 2017 experienced on Friday, June 2, the day before their graduation.

The annual "Senior Walk" is a new tradition; nonetheless, it is one that has rapidly taken hold at the high school and the four elementary schools that produced the graduates of today after years of dedication and nurturing.

Friday was the day when the 2017 graduating seniors returned once more to their respective elementary schools and entered those doors for the last time as students before graduating and moving on from that hallmark of life to the next.

Many arrived at Rochester Memorial School to witness the occasion, as seniors disembarked the bus that brought them to their alma mater for one last goodbye to their student selves, bringing with them inspiration to the elementary school kiddos and pride to their former teachers.

"What a wonderful tradition. I just love it," said Rochester School Committee member Robin Rounseville as the guests, teachers, administration, and RMS students all lined up against the walls of the corridors to await the arrival of the 2017 graduates from Rochester.

After a few photos in front of the school, the seniors entered the building to the traditional tune of "Pomp and Circumstance," also known as 'the graduation march song,' ringing throughout the building over the loudspeaker. As they marched down the halls dressed in their ORR-red regalia, students clapped and cheered and sought high-fives from the passing grads.

"Way to go!" "Great job!" "Congratulations!" the kids called out. Teachers could be overheard telling their elementary students that they, too, would one day walk the halls of RMS as seniors.

Some grads openly expressed emotion. Others just smiled brightly and widely.

Favorite teachers from the past, most notably Danni Kleiman who is retiring at the end of this school year, were ready with outstretched arms for a congratulatory hug and posed for photos before the students took the walk outside to the playground scrambling with kids in the midst of the RMS Fitness Field Day. The seniors then re-boarded their bus and returned to the high school. Graduation was held Saturday, June 3.

Plight of the Pollinators

By Jacqueline E. Hatch

Pollinators play a vital role in a productive ecosystem. About 75 percent of the fruits and vegetables we eat depend on pollinators for their survival, including apples, almonds, blueberries, citrus, pears, plums, pumpkins, and squash.

Currently, the United States and the rest of the world are facing massive declines in pollinator populations, which could have a direct impact on the quality and quantity of global produce.

There are approximately 4,000 species of native bees in the U.S., the majority of which are currently at risk.

Scientists attribute the collapse of these beneficial colonies to environmental pollution and exposure to pesticides. However, the decline in plant diversity in commercial agriculture and the loss of natural habitats may also be limiting the range of nutrients provided from common pollinator food sources like nectar and pollen.

At home, gardeners can create supportive pollinator environments by planting wildflowers and native species, constructing diverse plantings, building bee habitats, and avoiding the use of pesticides.

According to experts, perfectly manicured gardens are not ideal for sustaining bee populations, as they do not provide the raw materials wild bees need to construct nests.

At home, you can provide good nesting environments by preserving small brush piles, as well as areas with dry grasses and dead wood. These small efforts can play an important role in sustaining local bee populations by helping pollinators survive and thrive, which will ultimately lead to more productive and healthy local harvests.

The Marion Garden Group is involved in multiple efforts to create healthy pollinator environments in the local community. One such effort is the EmpowORR Garden, a pollinator haven recently created at Old Rochester Regional High School.

The garden was made possible by the Institute of Museum and Library Services, whose grant to the New England Wild Flower Society facilitated the development of "Pollinate New England," an educational outreach program designed to build a network of gardens throughout New England. The Society provides pollinator garden workshops and installations, manuals for garden maintenance, and social media networks where those involved can share results and observations.

The Marion Garden Group is also working to sustain local bee populations by setting up and maintaining local beehives.

According to New England Beekeeping, estimated costs for just one residential hive exceed $1,000 per year. To support our local hives, the Marion Garden Group has started a project called "Bee a Benefactor," which means anyone can get involved in the effort to save the bees with donations starting at just $5. The Garden Group will provide matching funds for all donations.

repair shop that performs minor repairs on Town vehicles on an as-needed non-contractual basis.

Weigel has been providing vehicle repair services to the Town since 1997 before he was appointed as the fire chief, but he did join the fire department in 1976.

Town Counsel Blair Bailey said Weigel's status as a "special employee" of the Town allows him to maintain his position while his business also benefits financially from the Town as long as Weigel's supervisors, the Board of Selectmen, allow him to do so.

"An actual conflict would be direct financial benefit in violation of the law," said Bailey during a follow-up interview. "For this, he is a 'special employee' and exempt from certain conflicts (with selectmen approval)."

The State Ethics Commission required Weigel to fill out and submit a form disclosing his business dealings with the Town.

Bailey said Weigel performs only minor repairs to police and Highway Department vehicles at a good rate, and for projects well under the bidding requirement threshold.

Treasurer Cynthia Mello also submitted a disclosure of financial interest since the Town maintains $750,000 in an account with a bank that currently employs Mello's husband as a vice president. She has been submitting this disclosure since 2009.

Police Chief Announces Retirement

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

Marion Police Chief Lincoln Miller gave the Marion Board of Selectmen on June 6 a brief update on the goings-on at the police station, which ultimately became a public announcement of his impending retirement. The department is about to once again undergo the process of accreditation, which happens every three years. Miller said Marion is only one of 70 police forces in the state (out of 351 municipalities), and only one out of four in Plymouth County, that is accredited.

"It's a very intensive process to do," Miller said, adding that there are evaluations, reviews, and a number of assessments involved.

Miller also said the department is involved with the Plymouth County Project Outreach, a program that reaches out to victims of opioid overdose and their families for support. Miller said victims are offered rehabilitation opportunities and families can receive support. Once the offer is accepted, social services takes over.

"It's been a really positive experience," said Miller. "It's something that worked out really well."

Board of Selectmen Chairman Jody Dickerson commented that Miller would indeed be missed and praised his leadership.

"I'm proud of the way this has all panned out over the years," said Miller. "I'm very proud of having had the opportunity to serve here. But change is good ... and it's definitely time."

Miller will retire effective December 31, 2017.

Also during the meeting, local condominium developer Christian Loranger, owner of 324 Front Street, requested that the board, acting as the Water Commissioners, approve his request to provide sewer to the 12 existing bedrooms in the structure he purchased to renovate. The Town has previously assessed the multi-family home at five bedrooms, but Loranger said a proper interior assessment was never made.

The Zoning Board of Appeals had denied in a 3-1 vote a Special Permit to Loranger in favor of Loranger's formerly proposed project; however, the project required a supermajority vote of 4-0.

He is currently appealing the ZBA decision.

Loranger said he was not applying for an increased use of sewer service, just that it be properly authorized for 12 bedrooms.

"I'm not sure what's going to happen with it, whether there's going to be a new building there or whether I'm going to build a new structure," said Loranger.

The board said they would review the materials submitted by Loranger and make a decision at the next

In other matters, the Town has received a $289,000 donation from Peggy Repass and family to enhance the accessibility of the Elizabeth Taber Library. Resident Nancy Braitmayor has also donated the funds to cover the cost of architectural plans for the project; all that is left is for the Town to follow a process to accept the donation and enter into a philanthropist agreement with the donors. Groundbreaking could take place sometime after June 17.

Town Administrator Paul Dawson and Dickerson mentioned that they and several others had engaged in a meeting with Tabor Academy Head of School John Quirk in an effort to strengthen communication between the two parties. Dickerson said the meeting was positive and a first step towards future cooperation.

Finance Committee Chairman Alan Minard and former Planning Board member Robert Lane approached the board with a list of their suggested names for a subcommittee that Town Meeting approved to explore the VFW site for a town hall.

Minard and Lane wish to appoint themselves to the subcommittee, as well as former Planning Board member Michael Popitz, Caroline Bobick and Lars Olson.

Dickerson asked if the two gentlemen had advertised in the local newspapers that the Town was seeking members for a subcommittee to study the VFW site for a possible town hall. After a pause, Minard told him that they had not.

Dickerson said he preferred to refrain from making any appointments to the subcommittee until after the subcommittee positions were advertised for at least one week, as are all other committees and subcommittees in town. People interested, Dickerson said, should contact the Selectmen's Office.

The board also refrained from accepting Lane's request to allow him and Minard to expedite the architectural study process by appointing their preferred firm to get straight to work on the exploration of the site. Dickerson preferred to delay until the next meeting so that members eventually appointed to the subcommittee could have a say.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen is scheduled for June 20 at 6:30 pm at the Marion Town House.

Eversource to Replace Canopy Trees

Mattapoisett Planning Board

By Marilou Newell

What appeared on paper as a simple and seemingly innocuous agenda item – the removal of two trees on Acushnet Road – inspired a discussion between Tree Warden Roland Cote and Mattapoisett Planning Board members Karen Field and Janice Robbins.

Cote appeared before the board with Kyle Barry of Eversource seeking permission to remove a Norway maple and a Linden tree located at 116 Acushnet Road. He said the two trees were problematic, given their entanglement with the utility wires. Cote also said Eversource had planted two replacement trees of a flowering variety on the lot owned by Diane Zartman.

Zartman was present and said she was in favor of removing the two trees, one of which dropped branches and debris over her driveway.

But Field and Robbins expressed concerns.

"Is this going to set a precedent?" Field asked Cote. Robbins shared her fear that the vast number of trees in town that are vying for canopy space with wires would eventually face similar fates.

But chairman of the Tree Committee Sandy Hering, representing both the committee and the Mattapoisett Land Trust, didn't agree.

"Norway maples are invasive species," she said. "Eversource is funding the planting of fourteen trees throughout the town," Hering noted, saying that in this case the removal of these trees would actually add to the visual beauty of the area.

When Planning Board Chairman Tom Tucker called for a motion to permit the tree removals, only Gail Carlson, who made the motion, was in favor of it. The silence stretched for several uncomfortable moments.

Cote said, "The new trees are under these trees," which prompted Robbins to say that their planning might have been "premature."

Field said to Cote, "You know how I feel about trees," adding that the trees are currently fully leafed out providing a nice green canopy. But in the end, she yielded and seconded the motion. The tree removals were approved.

Also during the meeting, Planning Board member Gail Carlson, a resident of Brandt Point Village, gave a brief update on incomplete work on Phase 1 of the subdivision that was to have been completed by June 1.

The punch list of pending items includes guardrails, turtle tunnels, landscaping, the installation of a mail kiosk, septic system test reports, and improper overhead street lighting. She said deep trenches along Narragansett Road, remnants from completed roadwork, were now filled with standing water.

Tucker asked Planning Board Administrator Mary Crain if she had received responses from developers Armand Cotelleso or Marc Marcus who were asked to attend the meeting and report on their progress. Crain said Cotelleso had not responded and that Marcus indicated he would be unavailable. Tucker directed Crain to send a certified letter requesting their presence at the next meeting.

In other matters, Tucker asked the board members to plan on completing bylaw revisions begun many seasons ago, specifically for signage, screening, and parking during the next meeting. Field asked about a marijuana bylaw, tree bylaw, and wind energy bylaw. "Let's finish what we started first," Tucker said with a grin.

Tucker also asked that the board members be prepared to begin revisions to the Master Plan, including developing a sub-committee comprised of residents from various neighborhoods, "...to get an idea of what residents want to see in a Master Plan."

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Planning Board is scheduled for June 19 at 7:00 pm in the town hall conference room.

Commission received notification that landscaping activities appeared to be taking place along the shores of Snipatuit Pond.

Conservation Agent Laurell Farinon investigated the complaint and found a contractor on property owned by Lorraine and William Hawkes, 591 Neck Road.

Farinon requested that the contractor have Hawkes contact her office. What ensued was an enforcement order giving the Hawkes until April to provide plans for restoration. A whopping quarter acre of bordering vegetated wetlands had been clear-cut.

On June 6, the Hawkeses, along with Brad Holmes of Environmental Consulting and Restoration of Plymouth, came before the commissioners to discuss the matter.

Holmes laid out a phased plan for re-vegetating the disturbed landscape, including the variety of plant species expectations for regrowth of natural elements and long-range monitoring.

At one point, as Holmes explained the regrowth taking place in stumps of red maples, the remains of trees that had stood 50 feet high, Lorraine Hawkes rose to speak.

"I was not home when this was done," Hawkes said. "...This wasn't what I wanted." She said she had instructed the contractor to cut out some invasive vines because, she said, "We could see the pond when we first bought the property." Hawkes became visibly emotional as she apologized. "This wouldn't have happened if I were home."

Several commissioners wanted to see more than just seeding activities and small shrubs planted as commissioner Laurene Gerrior expressed why she wanted larger plantings. "It's such a horrible scar right now."

Holmes agreed that larger shrubbery and wildflowers could be planted along with proposed restoration plans. He said it was a good thing that the contractor had not removed tree stumps or performed other excavation activities, as this will allow natural plants to regenerate more easily.

Farinon said, "The area altered was a protected area, providing shading and nesting.... This is a biggie.... Many people are watching. If we had everyone on the pond thinking, 'I want a view,' it would be an environmental disaster."

Farinon concluded, "We need a more aggressive planting plan." She asked the commissioner to consider how they would have reacted to a request to clear the area. "Would we have approved it?" She answered the question for them, "No." Farinon said they are awaiting a response from the Natural Heritage & Endangered Species Program on the restoration plan. The hearing was continued until June 20.

Earlier in the evening, Farinon spoke on behalf of several applicants – two seeking Certificates of Compliance and two seeking Requests for Determination of Applicability.

RDA conditions were approved for Willow Creek Builder for property located at 153 Forbes Road for the construction of a new well, and for Sippican Mill, 284 Mary's Pond Road, for the pruning and/or removal of a tree located beside the stream and gristmill.

Certificates of Compliance were issued to the City of New Bedford, 1 Negus Way, for landscaping associated with a photovoltaic system installation, and Michael and Jean Isabelle, 183 Mendell Road, for the construction of an addition to an existing detached garage.

Alan Ewing representing Marc and Nancy Ferreira, property located off Vaughan Hill Road, received an Order of Conditions for their Notice of Intent for the construction of a new home, septic system, and well that will require the importation of fill and a wetlands crossing with replication area.

The next meeting of the Rochester Conservation Commission is scheduled for June 20 at 7:00 pm in the town hall meeting room.

Board Secures Funding for SRPEDD Assistance

Marion Planning Board

By Sarah French Storer

The Marion Planning Board took the opportunity of a light meeting agenda on June 5 to thoroughly discuss its current budget and future needs. The board efficiently addressed bylaw codification and voted to secure funding for assistance with the Town's Master Plan.

Board member Norman Hills, a member of the Bylaw Codification Sub-committee, notified the board that he would be bringing a series of bylaw revisions to be reviewed by the board over several meetings.

Hills said, "I want to give the board a heads-up that there are eighty bylaws to be reviewed and I'd like to bring ten to each meeting," adding that there are currently 52 ready to be reviewed.

The sub-committee would like them to be ready for the Fall Special Town Meeting.

Vice Chairman Stephen Kokkins noted that Town Meeting had approved a list of routine corrections, which now must be approved by the state Attorney General's Office.

Hills said that the bylaws the sub-committee is now addressing are ones that need more discussion, and he cautioned, "Twenty are going to be really tough to talk about."

Board member Will Saltonstall suggested that the board get the bylaws ahead of time, which Hills agreed to, but he also emphasized the prudence of members only reviewing the 10 that the board would be discussing at the current meeting.

Chairman Eileen Marum concurred, saying, "It's a worthwhile effort doing it in increments. We will have a better understanding of what's going on in the codification."

New Board member Christopher Collings asked if the document the sub-committee was working on could be reviewed in its entirety, to which Hills replied that he would be happy to provide to everyone, but it is a living document and it could become somewhat confusing. The sub-committee is changing the document weekly, and Hills would rather not have comments on drafts that may be irrelevant to the current discussion.

Saltonstall urged that there be public input early in the process so that the bylaws have the best chance of success to be approved at Town Meeting, to which Hills replied that there must be a public hearing on all the bylaws after the Planning Board approves them.

Hills again took the lead on the discussion regarding the state of the board's FY17 budget. Planning assistant Terry Santos, Chairman Marum, and Hills met earlier with Finance Director Judith Mooney to get an overview of the current budget.

Hills noted that there was roughly $12,000 left in the part-time wages line item of the budget, which is what the board uses to pay for the assistance from SRPEDD for the Master Plan. There is currently approximately $3,100 outstanding to be billed to the board by SRPEDD, which leaves roughly $9,000.

Hills recommended to the board that it encumber that amount to be used for a new contract with SRPEDD. After Town Meeting acceptance on the Master Plan this fall, the Town will need assistance from SRPEDD to implement the Master Plan, including support for new sub-committees that will be created, as well as help in developing the priorities of the Plan.

Hills noted that if the funds were not encumbered, they would be lost at the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

Saltonstall, while supporting the vote to secure the funds, underscored the "big task of educating the public before Town Meeting, [making sure] it is not the first time they are seeing this stuff..."

The board voted to approve the contract with SRPEDD using the designated funds as described by Hills.

In other business, the Zoning Board of Appeals requested comments from the board regarding a project at 6 Allen Street in which a Special Permit is being requested for a non-conforming structure. Saltonstall recused himself from the brief discussion. It was noted that the existing structure to be modified is a garage at the rear of the property and is not visible from Allen Street. The structure will be increased greater than 50% in size, making it over 500 square feet, which Hills noted would trigger a Minor Site Plan review by the Planning Board. The board agreed to send this recommendation to the ZBA, with Collings remarking, "We should be as modest as possible in our oversight."

In other matters, board member Jennifer Francis noted that she and Hills continue to interview town planner candidates, but as Hills put it, "I'm not sure we are where we want to be yet."

The next Marion Planning Board meeting is scheduled for June 19 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Town House, not the police station as noted on the meeting agenda.

On May 31, Superintendent Doug White presented his mid-cycle review of the Tri-Town school districts' goals and their progress towards meeting those goals.

With the assistance of a subcommittee charged with forming and developing these goals, White says the school districts have seen much progress on the focus areas selected, while giving administration and staff more time to plan, execute, and chart progress, and meet expectations.

"We felt that having the longer time frame really got the chance to put a focus on those types of goals that we wanted to see within our school district and this committee was just great from the start," White said.

Particular emphasis is placed on meeting the social-emotional needs of students of the Old Rochester Regional School District as well as within the three towns' school districts.

"It's all about doing everything for every single student that's in our building," said White. "All students receive social-emotional learning support."

White described some of the interactive opportunities to foster social-emotional wellbeing, including some older students attending a production at The Zeiterion Theater about drug abuse. The school also hosted a viewing of the documentary "Screenagers," hired a BCBA (board certified behavior analyst), and will implement a health curriculum at Sippican School this year.

At the high school, particular interest is placed on the development of an “intervention block” when all students would meet with guidance staff for academic and social support. Also, the school has secured an intern psychologist from the University of Rhode Island at a reduced cost for further student support.

Data that has come back from a “Community Cares Survey" will also help the districts pinpoint other areas where social-emotional support is needed.

A new kindergarten transition program at Sippican School will be implemented next year in Rochester and Mattapoisett after success in Marion. Kindergartners will enter kindergarten and will be observed and assessed before being placed in the appropriate setting.

The ANCHOR Program at Sippican also resulted in successfully reaching out to parents in the community who might need more encouragement connecting with the school staff, so White is looking to expand the program to the two other towns.

Budget enrichment is also a focus area, with particular attention being paid to the School Choice program and how it will enhance the ORR budget this fiscal year. Following and monitoring the $603,000 Capital Plan is also essential, White said.

"I feel that if there's any goal that the committee is well in tune with, it's the budget," said White.

The school districts also have their sights set on expanding outreach through various media sources to connect the school with parents, community members, and town officials.

Technology and the technology knowledge of the staff and students were also emphasized to have the greatest impacts on teaching and learning, White said.

Academic rigor is also emphasized, with an example of carrying out this goal being additional Advanced Placement offerings at the high school.

"The fact that we had a year to work on these goals and really get into the trenches was much more productive than setting them in October, working on them ... in January, and then having to be done with it now," said White.

ORR School Committee member Michelle Smith said the two-year cycle is an easier way to go about the evaluation process.

"We felt more connected and more a part of this process with you," said Smith. "We really worked well as a team as well. We did an amazing job. Just looking back at what we've done this year, it's really amazing."

Marion School Committee Chairman Christine Marcolini added, "I loved the format, too. It was really informative."

The next meeting of the joint school committees is scheduled for September 28 at 6:30 pm in the junior high school media room.

Old Rochester Faces Tournament Competition

ORR Sports Update

By Alexandra Hulsebosch

Here is a summary of this week in Old Rochester Regional sports.

Boys' Lacrosse: The Old Rochester boys' lacrosse team (ranked 7th) played Bishop Stang (ranked 10th) in the first round and lost 13-8. Although they played a tough game, Stang's attack was able to place the ball in the back of the net. With the normal Bulldog goalie absent, Jacob DeMoranville stepped in for his first varsity appearance. At the start of the game, he was unable to save the Stang offense's shots, but by the end he had 15 saves. Despite being face-guarded by Bishop Stang's best defenseman, Landon Goguen had five goals. Patrick Saltmarsh, Alex Lorenz, and Kyle Gillis each scored once. Unfortunately, Old Rochester will lose eight seniors next year: Goguen, Saltmarsh, Charles Tirrell, Andrew Riggi, Nick Rego, Gavin Fox, Justin Shay, and Tim Dix.

Girls' Tennis: The Lady Bulldogs (ranked 3rd) cleanly swept away the Carver girls (ranked 14th) with a 4-1 win. At first singles, Delaney Pothier won the latter two sets after losing the first of the sets. Danielle Nutter won at second singles. Continuing their undefeated season, the duo of Emma Collings and Kinsley Dickerson won first doubles. Minutes after the first doubles team finished, the second doubles team of Delaney Soucy and Grace Filoramo defeated their Carver counter partners. With this win, Old Rochester advances to the second round.

Boys' Tennis: Old Rochester (ranked 2nd) won 4-1 over Hanover (ranked 15th) in the first round of the state tournament. Every Bulldog player won, with the exception of the first singles player Sam Pasquill. Playing at first singles is a daunting task because you are continuously facing the other team's most talented player. Pasquill has handled this well all season, with only two losses. The first singles player from Hanover was superior, which resulted in a loss for Old Rochester. However, all other matches earned the Bulldogs wins. Old Rochester allotted Hanover three points between all other matches. Alex Bilodeau and Jahn Pothier completely eliminated their competition by not allowing Hanover one point at either second or third singles. Josh Lerman and Maxx Wolski won first doubles along with Caleb Jagoda and Ray Williams who succeeded at second doubles. The Bulldogs moved on to the quarterfinals where they faced Cohasset (ranked 7th) and won 5-0. Pasquill, Bilodeau, and Pothier took care of business in the singles arena, winning all three matches. Both doubles teams of Wolski and Lerman and Jagoda paired with Williams earned wins. This was a huge win for the Bulldogs as Cohasset beat them twice in previous year's state tournaments.

Girls' Lacrosse: Due to poor field conditions, Old Rochester played their first round of state's game against Ursuline Academy at the Tabor Academy field and won 20-14. The first half was a scoring game for both teams. The Bulldogs alternated shots with their competition. However, after halftime, Old Rochester came to play and managed to create a gap between themselves and Ursuline. Madison Cooney had five goals. Emily Hiller earned four goals along with Ava Ciffolillo. Ali Hulsebosch managed to get three goals while Katherine

Tracy had two and Taylor Lee and Megan Shay each had one. Goalie Gate Tenerowicz had 10 saves. After the win, the Lady Bulldogs moved on to play at Falmouth High School where they won 20-9. Cifolillo had five goals and Cooney had four goals and four assists. Tracy and Lee both earned three goals and Mackenzie Good added one. The mechanism that kept the Old Rochester offense together was senior captain Emily Hiller. With three goals and six assists, Hiller showed her ability as a leader to force the offense to work as a team. The Bulldog defense of Julia Barrett, Mary Butler, and Caroline Thomas worked hard to cut off the cutters and defend the net. With senior captain and vocal leader Molly Lanagan out of the game, Barrett filled her shoes and acted as the glue that bonded the Old Rochester's defense. Tenerowicz had seven saves. The Lady Bulldogs move on to the semifinals against Cohasset.

Softball: After making the state tournament for the first time in eight years, the Lady Bulldogs softball team beat Dennis-Yarmouth 8-6 in the first round. Avery Soares pitched a solid game, striking out nine players, allotting for only six hits, and walking four. Despite a slow start, Old Rochester picked up their speed and began to hit better and run faster. Sophie Hubbard led the offense going 3-for-4 and earning two RBIs. Alex Sheehan went 2-for-3 with one walk and one RBI. Captain Olivia Labbe was 2-for-4, and had two RBIs. The Bulldogs have had ups and downs in their season, but they really came together to play hard and as a team in this game. Old Rochester will progress to the second round, but they still await their opponent.

To the Editor:

The Walter family would like to express great thanks to the Mattapoisett Fire-Rescue and Police Departments for their assistance on March 30 when Robert Walter passed away. Their efforts were above and beyond and really helped our family get through a "tough" day. We would especially like to praise officer Anthony Days of the Mattapoisett Police Department for all he did to assist Bob's wife Pat and the rest of the family on that day. He showed us all how lucky the residents of Mattapoisett are to have such a professional, caring and highly involved person on the force! Thank you so much, Anthony, for all you do. We also think that he is a heck of an artist!

On a related note, the Walter family will be holding a memorial gathering for all who knew Bob at their home at 31 Water Street on Saturday, June 17 at 1:00 pm rain or shine. Please join us for an oyster, a cold beverage and some fond memories of Bob.

*Our very best,
The Walter Family*

The PMC donates 100% of every rider-raised dollar directly to the DFCI and The Jimmy Fund. My goal is to raise over $1,200 for this charity.

MAC Landscape Painting Workshop

The Marion Art Center is pleased to announce a summer workshop, Painting the Landscape, to be held Friday, August 4 and Saturday, August 5 from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm. In this workshop, award-winning artist Eli Cedrone will cover all key elements needed for a successful landscape painting: design, value, color and brushwork. Students will learn how to have a strategy to capture the scene before them with a simplified design and correct color relationships.

Each day, Eli will demonstrate the quick study and how to simplify value patterns to achieve unity and impact. She will introduce an innovative method of color mixing using a simple, four-value approach. Students will learn to see both color and value as a unit, identify them and quickly mix the desired color. With this approach, it's easy to establish a pattern of light informed by the direction of the sun and to achieve unity and impact. In case of inclement weather, students will have the opportunity to use reference materials. How to translate photos into useful information for paintings will be discussed. Each day, Eli will demonstrate the quick study before students paint.

The workshop may be taken as either a single-day class or as a two-day class. Tuition for a single-day class is $115 for MAC members and $125 for non-members. Tuition for taking the workshop as a 2-day class is $220 for members and $230 for non-members. Materials to be provided by students; supplies list available upon request. For more information on the instructor, visit <http://elicedrone.com/>. For more information on the workshop, call MAC at 508-748-1266 or visit <http://www.marionartcenter.org/about/register/>.

in critical need."

Blood is a perishable product that can only come from volunteer blood donors. With someone in the U.S. needing blood every two seconds, blood products must be constantly replenished, according to the Red Cross.

"We urge eligible donors to join us in the selfless act of giving blood. There's no better feeling than knowing that your blood donation may give someone a second chance at life."

There's a serious need of all blood types, especially O negative, A negative, and B negative. O negative is the universal blood type that can be safely transfused to anyone, and is often used to treat trauma patients.

While walk-ins are welcome, it is recommended to schedule an appointment by calling 1-800-RED CROSS (733-2767) or by signing up online at redcrossblood.org and searching by zip code 02739.

As a local titleholder in the Miss America system, Ms. Zucco's personal platform is entitled, "Choose A Cause, Make A Difference" – a charge to others to share their time, skills and talents for the betterment of others. She has been living by her core values of giving back to her community since she was very young, averaging over 750 hours annually, volunteering and coordinating community events that raise funds and public awareness for worthy causes throughout the Southcoast.

Chuck, more than likely it's just a burglar. Unlike a burglar, Buck Chuck, The Rochester Country Fair's Mascot, has been spotted everywhere lately.

Buck Chuck has come up with a new idea to create a teen area at this year's Rochester Country Fair. The main attraction will be a professional beach volleyball court, alongside cornhole tables, ladder toss and other activities. The new teen area, called Buck Chuck Beach, will be located at the west tree line by Gate D. The volleyball court will be centrally located next to a small hill that will make a natural grandstand for watching the games or just relaxing with friends.

One of our goals is to have a beach volleyball tournament between Old Colony and Old Rochester Regional High School on Saturday afternoon for both boys' and girls' teams. On Friday and Sunday, the court along with all the games will be open to first come, first up matches with some simple rules to give everyone access to the court.

Now it seems this rodent has come up with a great idea and now it's time for Buck Chuck to come up with the "bucks" to fund the project and this is where he needs your help! The campaign to raise the money is called "Bucks for Buck Chuck" and is off and running with an excellent start.

The goal is to raise $4,000 to pay for the equipment and materials needed for the court and games, and we're pleased to announce that thanks to our local business community and friends of Buck Chuck, we are already half way there! Buck Chuck has been very busy raising funds and planning for the upcoming events, but he still has much work to do.

If you or your business would like to help, please send your donation – large or small any amount is greatly appreciated – to: Town of Rochester Country Fair, P.O. Box 321, Rochester, MA 02770. Please write "Bucks for Buck Chuck" on the memo line to designate your funds for the teen area project.

Thank you and we will see you at the Rochester Country Fair this August 18-20 for some good family fun! Visit us on Facebook or on the web at www.rochesterma.com.

OBITUARIES

Adrian Lonsdale, 89, of Mattapoisett, died Monday, April 24, 2017 after a period of declining health. He was the husband of Jane (Swett) Lonsdale and the son of the late Carl A. and Helen J. (Burdick) Lonsdale.

Adrian entered the US Coast Guard Academy in 1945, and met Jane, an undergraduate at Connecticut College while they were enrolled in school in New London, CT. They would have observed their 67th wedding anniversary in June.

Adrian was born in Port Angeles, Washington and first came to this area in 1966 to command the Coast Guard Cutter Vigilant, then stationed in New Bedford.

He served with both the US Merchant Marines and the US Coast Guard. He rose to the rank of USCG Captain. In Vietnam, he served as the Task Group Commander of the 4th coastal zone from March 1968 to April 1969. He commanded 900 men near the Cambodian border manning both swift boats and coast guard cutters and patrols. He served as captain of four different Coast Guard cutters. He was a third-generation coastguardsman. His father and grandfather served as Coast Guard officers in the Pacific Northwest of the U.S. and in Alaska. He was awarded a Legion of Merit Medal with combat "V" and the Bronze Star Medal with combat "V" for exceptional service.

After retiring in 1978, Adrian founded Northeast Maritime, a Coast Guard Merchant Marine License prep school in New Bedford. He also sailed in mate positions on transatlantic container ships, was captain of a coastal tanker and finished his seagoing career as relief captain of the University of Rhode Island Research Ship Endeavor. He also testified as a maritime expert in numerous court cases.

A prolific writer, he coauthored two books: A Guide to Sunken Ships in American Waters and Voyager Beware. He had numerous articles and stories published in national publications such as True Boating, Motor Boating, Popular Boating, Sea Frontiers, National Fisherman, Naval Institute Proceedings, and Sea Classics. In 2012, he authored Scotch and Water, a fictional novel account based on the exploits of his grandfather during the sea phase of the enforcement of the National Prohibition Act.

Survivors include his wife, Jane (Swett) Lonsdale of Mattapoisett; and his children, Darcy Lonsdale of Northport, NY; Karl Lonsdale and his wife Siriwan of Tampa, FL, and Ross Lonsdale and his wife Maureen of Cape Elizabeth, ME; 7 grandchildren; 2 great grandchildren; 6 nephews and 2 nieces. He was the brother of the late Lucille Watts.

A memorial service will be held at 11:00 am on Saturday, June 17, 2017 in St. Gabriel's Episcopal Church, 124 Front St., Marion. Adrian's cremated remains will be buried at sea. Donations in his memory may be made to the USO, P.O. Box 96860, Washington, D.C. 20077-7677 or to St. Gabriel's

Belle Boyde, courier and spy for the Confederacy, shot a Union soldier in her home; Emma Edmonds disguised herself as a Union private, Frank Thompson, and witnessed bloody battles; Rose O'Neal Greenough engaged in affairs with Northern generals and used her daughter to send information to Southern generals; and Elizabeth Van Lew, a wealthy Richmond abolitionist, hid behind her proper manners to run a far-reaching espionage ring. All broke with conventions to fight for their side in the War. We will discuss this book on Thursday, June 15 at 6:30 pm.

MOVIE REVIEW

Warrior for Peace

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Wonder Woman. Starring Gal Gadot and Chris Pine.
Directed by Patty Jenkins. Running time: 141 minutes.
MPAA rating: PG-13.

Towards the middle of Wonder Woman, when the central heroine Diana of Themyscira (Gal Gadot) is running through the no-man's-land (ha) of a battlefield and deflecting hundreds of German bullets, either you recognize the subtextual power of this image or you find it a typical bit of superhero-movie action. I'd submit the latter is not the most productive lens through which to view Wonder Woman, here as well as its earlier iterations. This ideal of strong femininity has always been greater than the sum of her parts. I could say that the movie has its flaws particular to its status as a superhero film inside a larger superhero narrative, but it doesn't matter. Wonder Woman is an indelible symbol of sane female compassion against nihilistic male violence. She didn't make the cover of the first Ms. magazine for nothin', and this fourth movie of the DC Extended Universe (after Man of Steel, Batman v Superman, and Suicide Squad) stands well on its own and will gather deeper relevance than any other superhero flick.

Gal Gadot does what's needed as Diana; the role is bigger than she is, but she gives Diana's heroism a nice underlayer of sadness and regret. Diana has lived all her life with the Amazons on what we used to call Paradise Island, hearing about war (and its author, Ares) without knowing it. War soon invades the idyll of the island in the person of American pilot and spy Steve Trevor (Chris Pine), with German soldiers in hot pursuit. It's late in World War I, or, as Trevor calls it, "the War ... the war to end all wars." The retrospective irony of that phrase is bitter, as is Diana's realization that there isn't just one convenient supervillain to blame for war. Ares whispers in our ears; we take it from there.

Diana carves a swath through the German army, seeking only to defend or to deflect. She isn't a stone killer, just as she wasn't in the cheesy but beloved TV series with Lynda Carter, who could knock thugs or Nazis for a loop but preferred to be strong to be kind. Diana is, of course, a warrior, trained as such by her fierce aunt Antiope (Robin Wright) against the wishes of her mother Queen Hippolyta (Connie Nielsen). Wright and Nielsen, both 51 and seemingly still peaking physically, show us what power without masculinity looks like. Diana takes a bit from each woman. She will fight, but only when absolutely necessary. For the most part, her strength is hidden behind fake glasses and under a gray uniform, much like that of Superman.

Wonder Woman may be part of the doom-laden, "dark" and gritty DC film-verse, and by virtue of unfolding during one of the more costly and grotesque wars it certainly has its grim moments. But its director, Patty Jenkins — who helmed 2003's excellent Aileen Wuornos biopic Monster and hadn't directed another feature film until now — brings a refreshing clarity to it, a productive mix of gravitas and winking. At certain times, the movie seems very aware of being a cultural lightning rod with a lot of eyes on it. At other times it forges ahead swiftly (Wonder Woman runs two hours and twenty-one minutes but goes by fast), uninterested in anything outside itself and its musings about the nature of war and the nature of mankind.

As has become a tradition with superhero films, there are too many villains, though our time spent with them (including an uber-proto-Nazi played by Danny Huston and a mad mutilated genius named Dr. Poison played by Elena Anya with a half-mask recalling Jack Huston in Boardwalk Empire) is agreeably pulpy. Pulpiness is sort of baked into the concept; Wonder Woman's creator William Moulton Marston was working out ideas about femininity — seeing no reason why a strong woman couldn't also be submissive, he contrived to get Diana in bondage in a bunch of the powerfully idiosyncratic feminist-cum-fetishist comic-book stories of the '40s. The movie's Diana is briefly restrained, but not a lot of Moulton's thoughts inform the film, which is fine; Wonder Woman is bigger than he is, too. Lynda Carter can wear her, or Gal Gadot, but ultimately she belongs to all girls and women, a symbol of gentle power that can't help but endure.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A heads-up alert to all free-spirited Ewes and Rams: Be wary of a deal that could result in compromising your independence. Check every detail before making a commitment.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) New facts emerge that help put an irksome workplace situation in perspective. Meanwhile, pay more attention to a family member who needs your wisdom and strength.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A slight setback in plans is nothing to worry about. Use this delay to deal with a number of matters you might have ignored for too long. Expect news from someone in your past.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You're entering a period of stability. Use it to straighten out any outstanding problems related to a very personal situation. Also, pay closer attention to financial matters.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) As much as you love being a social Lion, you might well benefit from staying out of the spotlight for a while. You need time to reflect on some upcoming decisions.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A difficult family situation improves, thanks to your timely intervention. You can now start to focus more of your attention on preparing for a possible career change.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An on-the-job change works to your benefit by offering new opportunities. It's up to you to check them out. Meanwhile, a stalled romantic situation starts up again.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That flare-up of Scorpion temperament cools down, leaving you more receptive to suggestions about changes that might need to be made in your personal life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An unusual period of indecisiveness is a mite frustrating. But things soon clear up, allowing the sage Sagittarian to make those wise pronouncements again.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might feel that you know best, but it's not a good idea at this time to try to force your opinions on others. Best advice: Inspire change by example, not by intimidation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Some setbacks could affect your plans to fortify your financial situation. But things start moving again by early next week. Meanwhile, enjoy your resurgent social life.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Show that often-hidden steely spine of yours as you once again stand up to an emotional bully. You've got the strength to do it, especially as friends rally to your side.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your ruling planet, Mercury, endows you with a gift for writing. Have you considered penning the world's greatest novel?

who have participated in 20 Buzzards Bay Swims.

All funds raised from the Buzzards Bay Swim support the Coalition's work to protect clean water in communities across the region, from Little Compton to Woods Hole. Over the past 24 years, swimmers have collectively raised more than a million dollars to help improve the health of the Bay ecosystem for all. Registration is $25 with a $150 fundraising minimum (pay-or-raise).

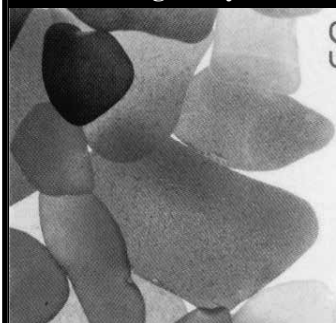

As an added challenge this year, West Falmouth resident and 10-year Buzzards Bay Swim veteran Larry Fish has offered a $25,000 matching grant if 340 swimmers sign up and raise a total of $135,000.

Looking to learn more about the Swim before you sign up? Join the Coalition and open-water swimming experts from YMCA Southcoast for a free open water swim clinic at Fort Phoenix State Reservation on Saturday, June 10 at 9:00 am or Saturday, June 17 at noon. Attendees will get to see the course firsthand, ask questions about the event, and learn great tips from swim coaches and Buzzards Bay Swim participants.

Be a Friend. Change a Life

The Friendly Visitor Program is sponsored by the Mattapoisett Senior Center to provide companionship and support to isolated seniors who express feelings of loneliness and isolation. Through weekly home visits, volunteers develop meaningful, long-term relationships with seniors who appreciate the company and look forward to the visits. Many seniors have fascinating life stories to share. And often volunteers discover they receive as much as they give. The impact is powerful. Your time and commitment can change a person's life; friendship is an essential ingredient for everyone's mental health. Refer someone you know or become a visitor yourself. Contact Susan Keir, Outreach Coordinator, at 508-758-4110 or email outreachcoa@mattapoissett.net.

well as a 100-mile "century ride" that circles the entirety of Buzzards Bay starting from the dramatic breakwater at Sakonnet Point, RI. All three routes join together to end with a lively finish line party in the heart of Woods Hole Village featuring dinner, beer and wine, live music, awards and free massages.

"I've really enjoyed the event all three times and will definitely plan to come back again," said Jeff Gonsalves of Dartmouth, who participated in the 100-mile century ride from Sakonnet Point to Woods Hole last year. "The route is fantastic, the rest stops are well placed and well stocked, and volunteers provide great support to all the riders."

Whether you're an avid cyclist or a more casual rider, you'll enjoy the Ride's gorgeous scenery through coastal villages, farmland, working waterfront and colorful cranberry bogs. Many cyclists form teams with their friends, family and coworkers, sporting flashy uniforms and colorful names like "The Patch Pedalers," "Shore Acres Scallywags," "Team Girl Power," and "The Speeding Turtles."

Cyclists ages 12 and over are welcome. Riders are fully supported along the course with water and snack stations, clear route markings, a hearty food truck lunch at Eastover Farm in Rochester, helpful volunteers, and on-the-road bike repair technicians. Prizes go to the riders and teams that raise the most money as well as the winners in categories including Best Team Outfit and Biggest Team.

Each rider raises a minimum of $300, but many participants set larger fundraising goals. All funds go directly to the Coalition's work to protect land and clean water around Buzzards Bay. Last year, cyclists and their supporters raised more than $120,000 to support the Coalition.

ORR "The Gathering"

Have you heard? It's The Gathering of the initial four classes at ORR back in September 1961. That's right, the Classes of '62, '63, '64 and '65 are planning a get-together. With no history or traditions to guide us on that first day of High School in 1961, we had to create the traditions and history that became the foundation for all future classes at ORR. That is something to be proud of and to celebrate. So, come join us on September 9 at our informal Gathering in Marion.

Church Ride Program

Do you miss going to church on Sunday because you are unable to get there? Do you want to go to church but don't want to go alone? The First Congregational Church of Marion has a church ride program for its Sunday service.

A group of volunteers would like to pick you up on Sunday for the church service and take you home afterwards. The worship service begins at 10:00 am and a fellowship time follows the service. The church has an elevator and is handicap accessible.

All you need to do is call the church office at 508-748-1053 by noon on Friday to arrange for a ride on Sunday. Also, let the office know whether you have any mobility aids such as a walker or wheelchair so that the appropriate vehicle can transport you. We have a team of six drivers who would love to bring you to church. More drivers will be arranged if needed.

We will gladly arrange for this transportation for one week or for every week. Please do not hesitate to call the church office to ask for transportation. Our drivers are happy to transport you.

We are excited about this program and look

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

My dog gets lots of ticks. Will he get Lyme disease?

Lyme disease is caused by a bacteria and is transmitted by ticks. Unfortunately, Lyme disease is common in this area.

What signs will my dog show?

The most common sign associated with Lyme disease is lameness, often associated with fever. Many dogs show no signs, while others are intermittently lame.

Is Lyme disease preventable or treatable?

Yes to both. Vaccines are available for dogs that are fairly effective in preventing Lyme disease. If your dog gets Lyme disease it can usually be cured by treatment with antibiotics.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the June 1, 2017 issue the Aardvark was on page 60!
